
Final Exam

The Registrar's Office has finally published the final exam schedule. The final exam for Math 147 will be held

Thursday, May 7, 2020 12:50pm – 2:50pm, in GW69EX.

The room, GW69 is in the West Gym.

Keep this in mind as you make plans for travel at the end of the semester! Transportation issues are not a valid reason for missing an exam.

Announcements

- We will be using Lecture Halls 1, 2, and 8 (LH001, LH002, and LH008) for the exam. Sections will be assigned to the lecture halls, and exams will be placed on seats in advance. (I will announce the room assignments on the class web site and in lecture on Wednesday.)
- The exams will already have student names on them, so it is important that you sit in the correct seat with the correct exam!
- Exams will be placed on seats in advance and be arranged alphabetically.
- You should come prepared, already knowing your section number and name (duh).
- Doors will open when the seats are all ready, probably at 8:00pm. Once doors are open, find your designated seat quickly and efficiently.
- Once everyone is properly seated and IDs are checked we will begin the exam. The working time for the exam is one hour. Do not begin until instructed. Stop IMMEDIATELY when instructed.

Exam Room and Seating Assignments

- Lecture Hall 1: Sections 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, & 11
(Sara Bey's and Paul Barber's Sections)
- Lecture Hall 2: Sections 2, 3, & 10 (Zhou Wang's Sections).
- Lecture Hall 8: Sections 7, 12, & 13 (Xinhai Zhang's Sections)

Students with an SSD letter should have gotten notifications by now when to report at the testing center for the exam. As of right now there is no athlete or person with a tragic event asking for a deferral.
