
Announcements

- Don't forget that Exam II will be held in the evening Wednesday, March 18. Everything we have covered or is covered in the text, through next Wednesday's lecture is fair game for the exam. That will include Chapters 1 through Chapter 17 of the text, and whatever portion of Chapter 18 we complete. While the emphasis will be on the newer material (Chapters 10 – 17), these chapters made use of the earlier material, so you will certainly be responsible for the earlier material as well.
- The exam will certainly be closed book.
- You will be permitted to bring one 3 × 5 inch index card with notes. Last time people brought in other sizes of notes. Do not repeat this error. Index cards are cheap and available at the campus bookstore. Do not bring your text or other notes or study materials.
- You will need a simple calculator capable of performing basic arithmetic operations, including square roots. Do NOT bring a calculator with advanced functions! You may not borrow a calculator, and proctors will not give out loaners. Penalties will be higher this time!
- You may not use a laptop or pad computer, cell phone, pda, or other electronic device. If you bring any such device to class, it must be powered off and stowed away out of sight.
- Photo IDs may be checked during the exam, so have your ID available and in sight.
- I should not need to say this, but do not converse or exchange anything with another student during the exam.

Announcements

- Don't forget that Exam II has an earlier starting time than Exam I: 6:30pm.
- The room assignments for the exam will be the same as they were for the first exam, and your seat should be located in almost the same place as last time.
- Be sure to find the exam with your name sticker on it.
DO NOT WRITE ON SOMEONE ELSE'S EXAM!